

Market Review for May 2019

4th June 2019

TOPIX ended down 6.53% on April end. The market fell due to reheated concerns over prolonged US-China trade wars following the news of a breakdown in US-China trade talks. The concerns were fuelled further by the news of the US's additional tariff on imports from China and the ban on exports to Huawei. Under these circumstances, the Japanese yen has appreciated against USD, which also weakened investors' sentiment.
